

GSA COMMITS NexGen

Task orders awarded under the GSA's COMMITS NexGen contract vehicle allow Federal customers to acquire IT personnel, material, services, supervision, documentation, transportation, shipping, tools, training, and facilities in accordance with Government, departmental, and industry standards. The COMMITS NexGen program's objectives are to:

- Deliver top quality, performance-based IT services and solutions that meet Government mission requirements
- Deliver IT services and solutions with a streamlined acquisition methodology
- Provide competitive IT solutions from a pool of exceptional small, disadvantaged, 8(a), women-owned, veteran-owned, service-disabled veteran-owned, and HUBZone businesses

Benefits

- Promotes economic growth and provides opportunities to small businesses while the customer agency accrues small business credits
- GWAC vehicle of choice for Federal Government to meet its demand for high-quality competitive IT solutions from a pool of exceptionally qualified, high-quality small, small disadvantaged, small 8(a), small women-owned, small veteran-owned, service-disabled, veteran-owned, and small HUBZone businesses
- Low-risk alternative for placing task orders with small businesses
- Performance evaluations for each task order
- Supports President's Management Agenda
 - Performance-based and results-oriented
 - Contract bundling
 - Promotes competition
 - Enables electronic government
 - Small business goals
- Improved acquisition information technology requirements